

JUAREZ INDULGES IN WILD DEMONSTRATIONS AGAINST AMERICANS OF EL PASO

EL PASO, Texas, September 7.—(Associated Press Cable)—The American end of the international bridge connecting this city with the Mexican city of Juarez was the scene of a brisk gun fight last night between a prominent Mexican Federal officer and two American officials, which resulted in the death of the Mexican. As a result of the fight, intense excitement prevails on both sides of the line, with violent anti-American demonstrations in progress in Juarez. It is feared here that the excitement may lead to some untoward act of violence and far-reaching consequences.

It was early yesterday evening when Lieutenant Agosta, a prominent officer in the army of Salazar, which is garrisoning Juarez, attempted to force his way onto American soil past Customs Inspector Jonah and Immigration Inspector Heifrin, who had been stationed at the American end of the bridge which spans the Rio Grande. The American officials stopped the officer, in the usual way, and began to question him. Agosta resented both the interruption and the questions and, after heated words, drew a revolver and opened fire upon the Americans. These officials, after the Mexican had fired several shots, returned the fire and Agosta fell, mortally wounded. His friends from the Mexican side, attracted by the firing, rushed to his rescue, arriving in time to carry his dead body back with them to Juarez.

When the news spread, the river bank on the Juarez side was soon lined with Mexican soldiers, who shook their rifles at the El Pasoans and hurled curses and threats across at the Gringos. Some shots were fired, but evidently the rifles were pointed up in the air as no bullets fell in El Paso and none was hurt.

HUERTA'S ENVOY MAY NOT SECURE ANY HEARING

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
WASHINGTON, September 6.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Developments in the Mexican situation probably will await the arrival in Washington of Manuel De Zamacoena Y Incaian, personal envoy of the Huerta government, to continue with the Washington administration the negotiations begun by John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson.

Administration officials had not decided last night whether they would receive Senor De Zamacoena unless he brought positive assurances of Huerta's elimination from the situation in Mexico and was ready to act upon the other point in the American proposals for the establishment of peace.

Senor De Zamacoena's mission is said to contemplate not only the furtherance of the negotiations looking toward peace, but the floating of a loan that would be encouraged by the American government.

PARIS, September 6.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Intervention by the United States in Mexico either directly or indirectly will not be tolerated, according to Senor De La Barra. He said that all Mexicans deeply resented outside interference.

HERRISHOFF TO BUILD A DEFENDER

BRISTOL, Rhode Island, September 6.—(Special to The Advertiser)—A seventy foot, all-steel sloop, of Keel type, is to be built at the Herrishoff yards here as a candidate to defend the America Cup in the race with Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger in September of next year.

CHICAGO, September 6.—(Special to The Advertiser)—An unexpected comet, discovered only last Monday, is rushing toward the earth with such speed that it soon will be visible to the naked eye. It is of the ninth magnitude. Attempts will be made to photograph it.

The comet was seen on Monday night by the Rev. Joel Metcalf in his observatory at South Hill, Virginia, and the comet will be known as "Metcalf's." Astronomers say the comet is located in the constellation "Lyra." Its right ascension is six hours and fifty minutes and its declination is fifty-seven degrees. Its shape is round and the center appears to be solid.

PANAMA, September 6.—(Special to The Advertiser)—The government is considering plans to permit the crossing of the Panama Canal when water is admitted to the Colón cut and the present trestle is abandoned. Col. Geo. W. Goethals, chairman of the Panama Canal Commission, has approved the use of a wooden pontoon, adapted from the design employed by the railroad in crossing the Mississippi at Vicksburg. The pontoon will be sufficient in size to carry railroad tracks and to have roadway for vehicles.

With its approach, it is estimated that the pontoon will cost $112,000.

Bulgars Want Another Chance At the Greeks

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 6.—(Special to The Advertiser)—General Savoff, former commander-in-chief of the Bulgarian army, declared today that if the Powers would not interfere Bulgaria could rout the Greeks within a week.

It is announced that a treaty between Turkey and Bulgaria will soon be signed. There is much speculation as to its contents.

There are good grounds for the belief that it is a treaty of alliance and that the Bulgars may soon join the Turks in war upon Greece.

Turkish military operations against the Greeks are still going on by land and sea.

RADICAL STUDENTS RECEIVE THE BLAME

TOKIO, September 6.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Morioka Abe, director of the political bureau of the Japanese foreign office, died today the victim of an unknown assassin. His assailants, who are believed to have been students, laying in wait for him in front of his house Thursday evening while he was at the railroad station to meet H. Ijima, minister to China, who had just been recalled from Peking.

Director Abe was attacked by two young men who ran out of an alley toward him. One seized him by the shoulders while the other plunged a short sword twice into his abdomen. The assassins escaped in the darkness.

It was not thought at first that the director's wound proved fatal, for they were promptly dressed after passing by him carried him to his home.

Excitement is intense here following the reports of the massacre of Japanese and the insult to the Japanese flag at Nanking, and there is much irresponsible clamor for drastic action against China, similar to the recent clamor against America. The motive of the assassination of Director Abe may have originated in resentment, as the policy of the foreign officials in both cases has been steadily to adhere to an attitude of calmness.

LACK OF SLEEP CAUSE OF WRECK

NEW HAVEN, Connecticut, September 6.—(Associated Press Cable to Star-Bulletin)—The terrible wreck on the New Haven line is under investigation today by state and national inquirers, and already evidence is being brought out to show that the management of the line is indirectly responsible. The interstate commerce commission is holding an inquiry and the State of Connecticut is investigating simultaneously.

Engineer Miller of the White Mountain Express testified today that he had been doing the work of two men for a week just prior to the accident. The night before the express wrecked the Bar Harbor Limited, he declares, he had not but four hours' sleep.

DYNAMITERS GET AGED SAN DIEGAN

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
SAN DIEGO, California, September 6.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Peter Hanson, seventy-four years old, was blown to pieces early this morning and his home, where he lived alone, was demolished by an explosion of dynamite placed under his bed. The house was a small structure. Hanson, for ten years, was employed by the city water department. No arrests have been made.

KEALOHA VOTES AND SMILES ON

He Wins, Whether Supreme Court of Territory Decides Against Him or Not—The Smile That Won't Chase Off Illuminates His Features When His Attorney Whispers Good Tidings.

The impeachment proceedings against Supervisor John Kealohe are gradually developing into a rather elaborate joke. As a matter of fact, it seems that the attorney general's department is anxious to drop them as is Kealohe to have them dropped. The department apparently occupies the intensely interesting, though unfortunately not very dignified position of the man who had the bull by the tail—it does not enjoy the situation, but it does not see how it can let go.

Claudius McBride went back to Hilo last Thursday, where he took his client, Kealohe, news which made that gentleman very happy. It was true that the supreme court had overruled the plea in abatement which had been interposed by McBride, but Claudius pointed out that whereas the impeachment proceedings had been brought for the avowed purpose of getting Kealohe out of office as soon as possible, the attorney general had been as glad as Kealohe to have the proceedings continued until September 20. As a matter of fact, reported McBride, Thayer wanted to continue the matter for a whole month.

"It is the common belief here," says The Advertiser's Hilo correspondent, "that the attorney general is merely waiting for a time when he can drop the case without sacrificing his dignity, and that he judges that that welcome moment will arrive when the grand jury has indicted Kealohe, if it does so, when it can be said that the prosecution of the criminal cases will make the impeachment proceedings unnecessary."

While Thayer has thus been placed in an unfortunate position, it seems to be a case of bad luck rather than of bad judgment, as the course adopted would without much doubt have been a very correct one had the board of supervisors been the board of impeachment, as was thought when it was decided to bring the proceedings.

Will Win Anyhow.

In the mean time there is still a lot of interest to be derived from the impeachment case. It is understood that McBride, who returned to Honolulu yesterday, contends that his client is bound to profit no matter which way the supreme court decides the point which is now before it, namely the contention that impeachment charges must be based on a sworn complaint. If it is held that such a sworn complaint is necessary, McBride wins out. If, on the other hand, the court holds that a sworn complaint is not necessary, an appeal can be taken to the United States Supreme Court, through a writ of error and a supersedeas bond, which will stay all proceedings here. Arrangements are being made for the taking out of these papers in Washington if the ruling of the local court is contrary to Kealohe's wishes. Kealohe will benefit in this case lies in the fact that he will remain in office until the United States Supreme Court renders its decision, and that is not likely to be much prior to the time his term of office expires.

So with Kealohe it appears to be a case of heads I win and tails you lose. Would Sit as Convict.

McBride is further understood to contend that even if Kealohe should be convicted of a felony, that fact would not prevent him from continuing to hold office. He maintains that while the conviction and the subsequent loss of civil rights would prevent the defendant from running for office, there is no statute here which provides for his removal from office automatically even if he is convicted.

In the mean time Kealohe is sitting as a member of the board of supervisors and still smiles.

Not on Kealohe Case.

McBride's trip to Honolulu is the nature of a sudden hurry call, and Claudius is mysterious about it. It develops, however, that he is here to appear in a new role as the Moses for a bunch of home seekers, whom the call of back to the soil is luring to the fertile plains of Waimanalo. In other words McBride is here to secure for a bunch of twenty-seven applicants homesteads at Paukape, near Waimana, where a short time ago a number of homesteads were opened for settlement.

The applications of the twenty-seven are in his pocket and will be presented to Land Commissioner Tucker immediately. The applicants include a number of very well-known Hilo men. The trades are particularly well represented and such is the diversity of the callings of the various applicants that they will be able to form a self-supporting town of their own. They have amongst them carpenters, plumbers, butchers, bakers (there seem to be a good many bakers), jewelers, chauffeurs, road makers and others. The full list of names follows: George Tucker, Edward J. Smith, Herman P. Ludwig, David Anka, Adam Kealakekahi, Edward A. Wilhelms, August M. Thaw Certain He Has Gained a Big Point

His Counsel Tells Him It Will Be a Year Before His Case in Canada Is Decided.

COATCOOKE, Quebec, September 6.—(Special to The Advertiser)—One year may elapse before it is legally determined whether Harry K. Thaw, the fugitive from the Matteawan asylum for the criminal insane, is to be deported from Canada or is to receive the protection of its laws. Assurances to this effect were given to Thaw today by his counsel.

Thaw is certain that he has won a long delay, and immediately after breakfast he began packing up for the journey to Montreal, where he must be produced in the provincial supreme court on September 15, when arguments will be read on the writ of habeas corpus.

JEROME BECOMES A FUGITIVE FROM JUSTICE

COATCOOKE, Quebec, September 6.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Complications have been added to the general case of the Thaw case by the effect subsequent to the arrest of Wm. Travers Jerome, former district attorney of New York, on a charge of gambling. Jerome was to have been arraigned before Magistrate McKee at half-past nine o'clock this morning, but Hector Verreuil, acting for the New York lawyer, and the hearing postponed for a week.

Meantime Jerome left Canada, going to Norton Mills, Vermont.

In a sense Jerome thus made of himself a fugitive from justice, reversing the position of Thaw, who is a fugitive from Canada. Jerome, if convicted, would have to go to jail, for there is no fine under the gambling laws.

VICTIM OF GALE LIMPING TO PORT

HARRY ORCHARD IS AFTER A PARDON

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
CALDWELL, Idaho, September 6.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Harry Orchard, who on December 30, 1906, set off the bomb that killed ex-Governor Steiensenberg, has applied for a pardon from the State penitentiary, where he is serving a life sentence. Since his incarceration on Orchard has professed religion, and the Metropolitan Church Association has been acting in his behalf.

LOST HAND AND EYE AND FACES ARREST

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)
WAILUKU, Maui, September 5.—A Japanese named Ishi Uchii, is now minus his right hand and is blind in his right eye as the result of illegal fishing with dynamite, which it is suspected was stolen. The man admits that he held on to a stick of dynamite too long.

He remembered nothing more, but the doctor who attended him at Doctor Soga's Paia hospital says that the man was brought to him on the afternoon of August 24, and that he found him to be in a dangerous condition.

From what the police have been able to discover, the Japanese and several companions went beach fishing, just above the Searby beach house. The other men threw some sticks into schools of fish and killed many. Then Ishi tried his luck and the first stick he handled went off in his hand and the rest was a blank to him. When he awoke in the hospital he found that his right hand was gone from the wrist and that his right eye was blinded.

The police got on to the story through the efforts of Deputy Sheriff Ferreira, who was tracing up a theft of about a dozen sticks of dynamite from the Camp One, Punahoa, powder magazine. Hearing of the maimed man, the deputy put two and two together, and quickly got an admission from the injured Japanese that he had used a stick for fishing at the beach. Further investigation led to another Japanese and he, when questioned, said that some more sticks were hidden near his home. A search revealed the fact that three sticks of powder were located in an outhouse. The man was arrested and charged with the theft.

The powder was kept in a box car and, sometime before the day of the accident, the car had been broken into and the caps and dynamite were stolen. As soon as the injured man is able to attend court the case will be tried.

ASSASSINS TOOK CHINA READY TO MAKE AMENDS

Believed That Murder of Japanese Official Was Work of Yuan Shih-kai's Men, Who Mistook Him for the Chinese Refugee—Abe Died Yesterday from His Wounds.

TOKIO, September 6.—(Special Cable to The Nippon Jiji)—The stabbing by two unknown persons of Morioka Abe, director of the political bureau of the Japanese foreign office, is attributed by those who are in close touch with Dr. Sun Yat Sen, General Wong Hing and other Chinese revolutionist leaders who are seeking safety in Japan to the activities in Tokyo of the Chinese political refugees to the Japanese capital. The fact that Director Abe bore a striking resemblance to Doctor Sun and that he might be easily mistaken by the Chinese assassins for the great Chinese leader is believed to be the cause of the attempt being made on his life.

Mr. Abe finally succumbed to the injury inflicted by the swords of the assassins.

The Tokio police, as well as secret service men, are using every means to arrest the two assassins, who made a successful escape from the scene of the stabbing.

The attack came on Mr. Abe right in front of his residence at Reinanaka, in the district of Akasaka, Tokio, early on Thursday evening. Mr. Abe was met at the gate by two unknown persons, who, without warning, sprang on him with short swords in their hands and plunged the sharp weapons into his abdomen and thigh, making two severe and ugly wounds. Then the two assailants disappeared in the darkness, leaving no clue which may lead to their immediate arrest.

The cry for help attracted the attention of members of the Abe family, who arrived too late to find the murderers. Mr. Abe, fatally wounded, was quickly carried to his home nearby, and physicians were immediately summoned. The efforts of the physicians to save his life, however, proved to be fruitless and the wounded man finally died today.

As to the motives of stabbing, besides the allegation that the assassination is due to the activities of Chinese assassins, it is thought by the police that Mr. Abe may have met his untimely death at the hands of his political enemies. Since the bitterness of feeling against the alleged atrocities in China of the Chinese federal soldiers has arisen in Tokio and since members of the Taisho Doshikai, or the "Japanese Society for the Chinese Policies," have denounced the governmental heads for their slowness in severing friendly relations between Japan and China, Mr. Abe and a few other government officials have been regarded by some members of the radical element as being personally responsible for the delay on the part of Japan in taking drastic action in China.

In the assassination of Mr. Abe, the police think there are one or two reasons to believe the stabbing work of some of these radical ones.

Though the Tokio police are active, the two unknown murderers are still at large.

CHOCOLATE KING MENIER IS DEAD

PARIS, September 6.—(Special to The Advertiser)—H. Menier, a rich and famous chocolate manufacturer, died today.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)
WAILUKU, Maui, September 5.—Judge McKay sentenced Antonio Palu to one year in jail last Wednesday morning. The young man, who is twenty years of age, bears an unsavory record, and it is only by luck that he is not now facing a charge of murder, or manslaughter, at least.

Antonio has served several jail sentences for assault before the present occasion and, last year, he got nine months for beating up his father. Previously to that assault he had threatened to shoot his parent. In fact, the young man appears to be one of the kind that become absolutely irresponsible when he takes a few drinks.

The assault for which Antonio is now serving one year in jail, was a particularly horrible one and the victim is now in such a state that his brain is affected and he cannot even walk without assistance. The assault—which nearly ended the murder case—was committed at Wailuku where a number of Hawaiians were having what is called "good time." The convicted man attacked the old native and, not content with felling him with a terrible blow on the face, finished the job by jumping on the victim's face with his heavy shoes.

The half-crazed Antonio was pulled off the unfortunate man and then it was seen that the latter was in a bad way. The police were summoned and while the old native went to the hospital, the brutal Antonio was taken to jail.

The victim of the assault was for two weeks unconscious in the hospital, and is now only a wreck of his former self. One eye is destroyed and the bones surrounding the optic are crushed into the cheek. There is still a possibility that the old man may never recover from the injuries he received and that he may die long before his time, owing to the beating that he sustained.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Greenwell, who returned to Honolulu in the Ventura after a wedding tour through Europe, lasting since last November, will leave for Hawaii within the next fortnight. The Greenwells will make their home on the Big Island.

Yuan Shih-kai Will Send Vice Minister of Foreign Affairs to Apologize to Japanese Emperor for the Nanking Affair and Will Yield on Every Point Raised by Japan.

(Special Cable to The Nippon Jiji.)
TOKIO, September 6.—That President Yuan Shih-kai is now taking into serious consideration the advisability of sending a special envoy to Japan to make a formal apology before the Japanese Emperor for the wanton killing by Federal Chinese soldiers of Japanese subjects in Nanking, is the latest word from Peking.

Beside sending to Tokio a special envoy, Yuan Shih-kai is said to be ready to accede to each part of the demand of Minister Enjio Yamazaki, the Japanese representative in the Chinese capital. The Chinese vice minister of foreign affairs will be named a Yuan's envoy to Japan.

Cabinet Officers Resign.

The excitement following the receipt in Peking of a dispatch from here, stating that Japan completed yesterday afternoon all preparations to declare war on China, resulted in the resignation of Luke Ching Cheong, minister of foreign affairs, and three other Chinese cabinet ministers. The resignation were handed to the President within a few hours of the receipt of the Tokio news.

Radicals Urge Action.

The radical members of the Japanese senate are meeting in conference daily, and their delegates this morning called on the Premier, Count Gonbei Yamamoto, and urged that decisive action be taken by the Japanese government toward China.

Premier Yamamoto, following the close of his conference with these senators, summoned Baron Makino, minister of foreign affairs; Baron Saionji, minister of the navy, and Baron Kato, minister of war, in another conference. They are still discussing the Chinese situation.

Ki Inagaki, leader of the Nationalist party, and Mitsuru Toyama, an intimate friend of Dr. Sun Yat Sen and General Wong Hing, today joined in advising the Japanese nation to be patient as well as prudent. The advice created a good impression among the moderate Tokyo populace. The Japan-China situation today is much improved.

TARIFF CLAUSE TO SLAP AT TRUST

WASHINGTON, September 6.—(Associated Press Cable to Star-Bulletin)—The countervailing duty on woodpulp has been stricken from the Tariff Bill by the Democratic majority in the senate. The principal argument favoring this held that the "wood pulp trust" is making the newspapers of the country in the sum of a million dollars annually.

Maj. B. F. Cheatham, U. S. A., chief quartermaster of the Hawaiian Department, returned from Hawaii yesterday on the Mauna Kea, after having made an inspection of horses, particularly on the Parker Ranch, for Army use.

Forty-eight horses have been purchased and will arrive here about Wednesday on the steamer Kilanau.

The horses represent the finest specimens of horseflesh the major was able to find at the Parker and Kukaia ranches.

If the Island ranchers are able to supply the government, they will all be given a preference in the purchase of animals, providing the latter are up to the standard. The Army has already purchased a large number of horses, many of which are to be seen in the Fourth Cavalry and First Field Artillery at Schofield Barracks.
